Frames cheaper than ever at Bryan's 8-2t

Don't forget the election on October 12. Vote for the railroad.

Bryan beats the world on babies' pictures. 8-2t

Four good rooms for rent, over my store, on South Nashville street. 9-2t

A. M. SHACKLEFORD.

We will get the Midland road yet in spite of Mr. Cassin M. Clay's efforts to the contrary.

Rev. W. H. Anderson, of Cardiff, State Sunday School Superintendent, filled the pulpit at the Methodist church, Sunday morning.

A railroad from North Middletown to Clay City or Faison Station, would add to the county assessment nearly, or quite $100,000.

The "Irish Corporal" troupe gave two performances here Tuesday and Wednesday nights. They deserved better audiences than greeted them.

Mr. A. M. Shackelford, the grocer, has a splendid line of meats, groceries and vegetables in stock. Call and see him at Dungan & Gay's old stand, on South Nashville street. 9-2t

The Standard Interior-Journal says that "Assessor B. B. Kennedy says that under the new Constitution the taxable property of Lincoln county will be increased fully $1,500,000."

A connection with the Midland and Kentucky Union roads would mean lower rates on tobacco, cattle and merchandise, lower rates on lumber and coal, increased prosperity in our city and county.

In the vote to be taken on the proposition to take stock in the Midland road, there will be no money used. Here is one proposed railroad that the people will be represented. Let us give the proposition an overwhelming majority.

Gov. Brown appointed John D. Carroll, of New Castle, W. C. McConell, of Washington county, and James C. Sims, of Bowling Green, as a Commission to revise the statutes. The appointment seems to be an excellent one. All are young men of marked legal ability and of untiring energy, and will no doubt do the work as satisfactorily as any that could have been named.

Two of our most enterprising firms have prepared to fold their tents in case we do not get the railroad, and there will be more to follow. Do not fall to vote for the railroad. Fearing that it would amount to nothing on account of the new Constitution, our best lawyers have been consulted, and they say the Constitution is "not in it."

Laban T. and John F. Wood have bought the job office connected with the Mt. Sterling Gazette. They took possession October 1st. These two fine young business men will run the office for all that is in it. There is no reason why they shall not succeed in building up a splendid business, since both are practical printers and job men of no mean ability. They are popular, good business men, and not afraid of work. We wish them success in their venture.

Hon. Harvey Waters, the venerable father of the distinguished editor of the Courier-Journal, died at the home of his son, on Thursday night. He was the last member of the Twenty-Sixth Congress, and served Hon. H. W. Thompson, of Indiana, the last of the Twenty-Seventh. His papers over the name of the "An Old Fogey" had a wide circle of readers. He was born in November, 1811, and was, on account of his age, nearly 80 years old. It is but a short time since he said: "I don't owe a cent to the world, and if I have an enemy I don't know it, and I whenever the good Lord wants me, I am ready to go." A grand old man has laid down the burden of years and gone to his reward.

If you are in favor of lower rates of freight, increased shipping and traveling facilities, vote for the railroad.

For Rent—A nice front room with board. Mrs. Marcia Gay. 9-2t

John Brady, the cutter, has taken a position behind the block at A. M. Shackelford's, on South Nashville street, where he will be glad to serve all his old friends with the choicest meats. 9-2t

The Montgomery County Union F. & L. U. will meet in Mt. Sterling on Saturday Oct. 27th. It is urgently necessary that a full representation be present as business of importance will come before the meeting.

J. D. Rein, President.

The best legal minds in the State, so far as we have heard from them, are almost unanimously of the opinion that the new Constitution will not interfere with our county's competing its contract with the Midland road, to take the same of the people whether or not they desire to take stock in that enterprise. The vote will be taken next Monday, October 12th.

Patrice, the soubrette, who is at the head of "A Pair of Jacks." Company this season, wears short hair with a Patrice pull in front. Her hair is naturally curly. She never wears a wig.

At Opera House, Saturday night, October 10. General admission, 25 and 50 cents. Reserved seats at Lloyd's.

The firm of Cassidy & Sutton has dissolved partnership. Mr. W. E. Cassidy will have charge of the furniture business of the late firm, whilst Mr. Sutton takes the undertaking department. These gentlemen will continue to do business at their old stand. There is nothing but a business transaction in this change. Everything is perfectly pleasant between the parties.

We call attention to the statement of the Mt. Sterling National Bank, to be found in another column of this issue. This is one of the most substantial enterprises of our section. The board of directors is composed of first-class business men, each one of whom enjoys the full confidence of the community. Its cashier is a gentleman who has won for himself a reputation that might well be envied by any one, for gentlemanly bearing and business sagacity. The bank points with just pride to its record and invites a close scrutiny of its affairs. No safer institution exists in the county to-day than the Mt. Sterling National Bank.

Little Master O'Lyinn, who is a member of the "A Pair of Jacks" company this season, has added three new songs to his repertoire. One of them called "The Never Came Back" is at present being sung by Eddie Foy in "Sinbad." "He Never Came Back" is a very funny song. It starts out as though it was a ballad, but the music switches off into the realms of comedy and the words are correspondingly funny. Foy usually takes half a dozen encores on this song. Master O'Lyinn's other songs are "I Am a London Swell," and "Daniel O'Flaherty on Broadway."

At Opera House, Saturday night, Oct. 10. General admission, 35 and 50 cents. Reserved seats at Lloyd's.

The fourth annual celebration of the Satellites of Mercury closed on Thursday night with the customary pageant and ball. The subject of the floats this year was the great discoverers of the world. The representations were elaborate and beautiful. The procession was witnessed by many thousands of visitors from this and other States. The ball was a magnificent affair. There were about five thousand people in attendance, and the impressive tableaux and marches, the bewildering costumes and the beautiful women made a spectacle which will long be remembered by every one present.

Mr. Sterling was represented by Miss Nancy Trimble, as Maid of Honor to the Queen, and was escorted by Mr. A. H. Hazlett.

Furniture at cost at Cassidy's. 9-2t

If you want Mt. Sterling to be leamed in on all sides, to see 1st business decay and her most enterprising citizens emigrate, vote against the railroad tax.

Master O'Lyinn, who has been engaged for Havill's "A Pair of Jacks," is a son of the celebrated Irish comedian, Barney O'Lyinn, who died some years ago. He is only 6 years old, but his specialty usually takes a half-dozen encores.

At Opera House, Saturday night, Oct. 10. General admission, 35 and 50 cents. Reserved seats at Lloyd's.

Jailor Tipton arrested a woman named Fanny Barnett, who lives near Levee, this county, Friday for manumitting in men's clothes. She called herself John Thompson and claimed she dressed to get work. She was taken before Judge Groves who released her upon a promise to do her proper apparel. She is engaged for Havill's "A Pair of Jacks." Rents for $130 per annum. Now is your chance to secure a comfortable home at your own price.

Terms of sale—One-third cash, balance in twelve and eighteen months, with 6% interest from day of sale. Possession given at once.

Thos. Whitt, W. H. Fletcher, Anc.

Col. John W. Owsen one of the very best citizens of this county met with a painful and certainly very severe accident on Friday afternoon. A wagon loaded with coal was being hauled to his home, when the mules balked at the heavy load. Happening to be on the road, he was thrown from the wagon, and the mules, in starting the team, he had taken hold of the wheel when the team gave a lunge that threw him under the wheel, which passed diagonally across his leg, from just below the knee to the ankle. He was assisted on his horse and rode a quarter of a mile to his home. By the time a physician reached him his leg was so swollen that it was almost impossible to ascertain the exact extent of the injury but it is certain that bones are broken in more than one place, if indeed one is not crushed. Col. Owsen's age, nearly 75, renders the hurt a very serious one. At this writing he is suffering much pain from the broken member.

On Thursday night miss Temie McEwen, a most estimable young lady of "Frankfort," was the victim of a drunken negro riot on a train between Louisville and Frankfort. The train was crowded with people returning from the Satellites parade at Louisville and many negroes as well as white men were compelled to stand in the aisles. William Wiley a white man occupied a seat by a lady he was escorting and left his seat to go to the water closet, when he returned he found a big negro named Watson had occupied his seat and told the lady, "Upon the negro's refusal to vacate the seat he pulled him up. All the negroes in the car rushed to the negro's assistance and the whites began crowding to Wiley's aid. One of the negroes fired a pistol the ball entering Miss McEwen's face just below the eye. The shot is not necessarily fatal, but she will be disfigured for life. The next Legislature should pass a law requiring railroads to furnish separate coaches for white and colored passengers. Such a regulation would prevent much trouble and save innocent parties harm."

The Lexington Trote.

The eyes of every trotting horseman are now turned toward Lexington where the greatest meeting ever held will begin Monday, October 12th, and continue through the week.

The Association has acted wisely in offering an excellent programme on the first day, when the ladies will be admitted free. On that day the crack two-year-olds meet, and horsemen predict that the winner will beat 2:20. As this is the only race in which they (Moubray, Ralph Wilkes and Annon) meet, the crowd to see them is certain to be large. On Tuesday comes the Transylvania Stakes, worth at least $5,000; on Thursday the only race ever trotted between horses with records better than 2:10—Nancy Hanks 2:09 and Allerton 2:09—will be fought out. This will be the race of the decade, if not of the century, and everybody should go to see it, no matter at what cost. On Saturday the four-year-old stakes, in which Dr. Sparks, Happy Bee, Belle Archer and Valassa meet will be almost as important; and Saturday's program will be one of the best of the week. The meeting as a whole has never had an equal, and everybody should read the program and go to the meeting.

For Rent.

Store room on corner of Main and Broadway streets, formerly occupied by John Samuels as a dry goods store. Will have it papered and painted, and an entrance made on Broadway to admit more light. Also two upstairs rooms fronting on Court and Broadway, that have been newly papered and painted. For terms apply to Mrs. E. M. Jordan.

Clark county has a greater railway mileage than any county in the State in proportion to its area, and yet taxes are lower by more than half than in Montgomery. Clark has been liberal to railway enterprises. Competition in transportation is the secret. Let us do likewise. The railways pay their proportion of all our taxes. Give them a chance.

W. S. CALDWELL.

At the Administrators sale of J. T. Domigan deceased, last Friday. Brood mares brought from $85 to $145; Work horses from $60 to $125; One weanling colt $45; Milch cows $13 to $31.50; Hogs $4.10 per hundred; Corn $1.85 per bbl. in field; Hay from $4 to $9 per ton; One four year old saddle and harness stallion "Gay Wait," $280; Farming implements sold low; Grass sown from $1.15 to $1.35 per acre from now until Feb. '92. Fair crowd in attendance.

ONE DOLLAR

To see the Nancy Hanks-Allerton Race.

The report in circulation that the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association intends charging two or three dollars to see the race between Allerton and Nancy Hanks at Lexington, Thursday, Oct. 15, is untrue, and without authority of the Club. We adhere strictly to old prices, and during the meeting the price of admission will be only $1 for men and 50 cents for ladies, except on first day when ladies will be admitted free. The Association has gone to an immense expense and spent at least $20,000 more than during any previous year. We expect the public to pay it, but not at exorbitant prices. All we ask is a liberal patronage at $1, and the public to turn out to our great races as many days as possible.

Parties from a distance attending the trot who do not desire hotel accommodations should apply to R. S. Strader & Son, 74 East Main street, for rooms. These gentlemen are our committee, and have under their clerks to wait on the public, and boys to show them quarters. This step has been taken in order that no extortion can be practiced on strangers.

Respectfully, ED. A. TITTON, Secy.

Sharpsburg Items.

A good rain would be a sight to gladden our hearts. Water is very scarce.

The teachers of Sharpsburg College are attending the Institute at Owingsville, this week.

The farmers are nearly through cutting and housing their tobacco, and the appearance of Jack Frost would do no material damage in that direction.

Albert T. Moffitt, late of the New Climax Mills at Mt. Sterling, has accepted a position with the Roller Mills at this place.

Mrs. Lou Latta has sold her beautiful residence and lot to T. J. Young, for $2,525, cash. She will probably go to Danville, and invest the proceeds in another home.

J. C. Nelson was quite sick last week.

M. J. Gibbons and W. H. Cannan have purchased the grocery and saloon of Wm. Merrifield.

Mrs. Sallie Henry has sold her lot to J. M. Brown, and T. J. Jones has sold his to C. F. Browning. Both these lots were made vacant by the recent fire, but the purchasers will build handsome and useful buildings on them.

Mrs. Wm. Barker, who has been sick for several weeks, is able to be out again.

Born, to H. Clay Hedges and wife, a son.

HARRIS &amp; MASON, Proprietors.

MT. STERLING, TUESDAY, SEPT. 29, 1891.

FOR PRESIDENT.

GROVER CLEVELAND,
Of New York.FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Of Kentucky.

The Danville Ice Company has contracted with a Cincinnati firm to ship a well to the depth of five hundred feet on the ice factory grounds, and if a good stream is not found at that depth arrangements will probably be made to go still deeper.—[Danville Advocate.]

Some time since several clerks in Commissioner Raun's department, charged that Raun's son was levying blackmail on the clerks by pretending to use his influence to secure promotions for monetary considerations. A few days ago Raun demanded the resignation of these clerks, but now it transpires that Secretary Noble proposes to stand by the subordinates, and it seems probable that the chief will have to get out. The stretch is becoming too strong for even a Harrison administration to endure longer.

SENATOR MCCREARY

Tells the Truth About Mr. Cleveland

Congressman McCreary is quoted as giving the following pointers on the political outlook:

"I know the people of Kentucky thoroughly, and am frank to say the masses are devoted to Mr. Cleveland. He brought the tariff—the one great issue—to the front, and there it still is, despite the efforts of McKimley and Sherman to evade it and substitute something else. Look at his enormous majority of the popular vote in 1884. That shows that the people are on the side of Democracy, and I only wish we could elect our President by a direct vote. Look at the press of the country. The big papers are nearly all on the Democratic side. Again look at the colleges and see how seventy-five per cent. of the faculties inculcate Democratic principles among the rising generation. But to return to Cleveland. My earnest wish is that the people of his own State may come before the convention urging his name. If they do, his nomination will be by acclamation. He won his way to the hearts of his people by his ability, his sterling manhood, and his great service in making tariff reform the shibboleth of his party.

Who do I think will head the ticket for the opposition? Harrison, beyond any doubt. If Blaine had any idea of running, he would not have stayed so long in the Cabinet. This thing of making a Presidential race is no holiday affair. The Secretary of State knows this, and with the big store of experience thus acquired, he will never enter the list again. In the first place, he is too bright a man not to know he would likely incur defeat, and, secondly, he is physically unable to plunge into such a conflict. But it matters not, in my opinion, on whom the choice may fall. I am sure our party will be victorious. The course of the incoming Congress will be closely watched by the people, but I have no fears but that it will gain public approbation.

As to the Speaker'ship you might put the names of all the leading candidates in a hat and draw one at random, and the selection would be a happy one. They are all good men. Many friends have expressed a desire that I should be a candidate for the Speaker'ship, but as Kentucky has been honored in this once, I will not allow my name to be presented."

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as the ever was. Free trial bottles of the Great Discovery at W. S. Lloyd's Drug Store, large bottles 50c. and $1.00.

HORSE AND TRACK.

Bean Bros.' sale on Thursday and Friday of this week.

Frank S. Waters is now the sole owner of Faustino, 2:17.

Folly, by Happy Medium, has lowered her record to 2:21½.

Natwood has already put ten performers in the 2:30 list this year.

The two-year-old stallion record is now held by Monbars, 2:14.

Cheyenne, 2:17, by Nutbourne, has been placed in Johnny Dickerson's stable.

Egthorne, 2:12½, is the fastest stallion owned in New York State. He is also the fastest of the get of Egbert.

Electioneer is the sire of three stallions whose average record is 2:15½. No other sire can compare with this.

St. Del and Sphinx enjoys the honor of being the first sons of Electioneer to sire a two-year-old that entered the 2:30 list.

The Montana millionaire, Marcus Daly, now owns, it is said, more racers and trotters than any other man in the world.

Four California two-year-olds have entered the list this season, viz: Arion, 2:21, Lucky B., 2:28½, Keber, 2:29, and Starlight, 2:29½.

American trotters are spreading all over Europe. Geraldine, Smith O'Brien and Usau were recently sold to Amsterdam, Holland, and Edison to Italy.

Strathmore has a son that is the sire of a trotter with a record of 2:14½ and a grandson whose list of performers shows a pair of racers with records below 2:12.

Seven daughters of Almont have this year contributed performers to the 2:30 list, and forty-four performers, descendants of that horse, are new to the list in 1891.

Miller & Sibley, Franklin, Pa., have lost their stallion St. Bell, by Electioneer, dam Beautiful Belle. He died of colic. This horse was a brother of Bell Boy and was valued at $100,000.

A. K. Russell, Lebanon, Ky., has sold to Leonard Bros., Rome, N. Y., for $2,500, the promising three-year-old bay filly Hazel Eye, by Arlet Wilkes, dam by Woodford Abdallah.

In view of the reported "waning interest" in trotting, it is significant to notice that fifty thousand people came out at Milwaukee last week to see Nancy Hawks trot against her record.

Pat Downing's 2:13½, at Independence, on the 4th ult., is not only the fastest mile by a new trotter, but is the fastest record ever made by a stallion the season he first entered the 2:30 list.

The Wilkes family now holds the yearling trotting record, Freedom, 2:29½; the two-year-old trotting stallion record, Monbars, 2:14½; the three-year-old trotting stallion record, Axel, 2:12½; and the champion trotting stallion record, Allerton, 2:09½.

The greatest four-year-old race that ever took place was at Cambridge City. The great Dr. Sparks was defeated by Belle Archer, by Rose, Sparks took the first heat in 2:18½; Belle Archer the next three in 2:15½, 2:16½, 2:17½. They meet again at Lexington.

J. A. Conway, Charlton, Iowa, has purchased from C. F. Emery, Forest City Farm, Cleveland, for $5,500, the ten-year-old bay stallion Pangloss 2:15½, by Pancoast, 2:21½, dam Beatrice, by Cuyler; second dam Mary Mambrino (dam of Elvira, 2:18½); by Mambrino Patchen. Pangloss is an own brother to Patron, 2:14½; Prodigal, 2:17½; and Patronage, sire of Alx three-year-old record 2:16½.

The breeders of Iowa are to be congratulated on the acquisition of such a royally-bred stock-horse.

The greatest trotting meeting that has ever taken place will be held at Lexington, Ky., next week. October 18th is the first day. Monbars and Ralph Wilkes, the champion two-year-olds, trot that day; also the 2:19 pace, three-year-old stake and 2:23 trotting class. On the second day, the $5,000 stake, four-year-old stake and 2:32 class. On Wednesday will have 2:19 class, 2:26 trot and two-year-old stake. On Thursday the Nancy Hawks Allerton race for $5,000. It will be the greatest race that has ever taken place. Indeed the program for each day will have some of the best horses in the world entered for the purses. You can not fail to see good racing on any day during the week. Our advice is to go the first six days of the meeting if you do not want to miss some good race.

Great Closing Out Sale of Trotters.

TO DISSOLVE PARTNERSHIP.

Speed, Pedigree, Good Looks!

In order to close partnership, Messrs. Bean Bros., will, October 8th and 9th, sell their ENTIRE stud of about eighty head of stallions, mares and young things. EVERYTHING will be sold, thus giving purchasers all the advantages of an Administrator's sale. The stock will be sold at what it will bring, not "HID IN" by the owners.

The horses are not only of "high-bred" pedigree, but many of them are WELLS trotters and fine lookers. The foundation of this stud was selected with great care and expense from the noted establishment of Gen. W. T. Withers, Lexington, Ky.—(one of the greatest breeding studs in the world.)

The blood of George Wilkes, Electioneer, Strathmore, Almont, Belmont, Happy Medium, Aberdeen, Cassius M. Clay and other noted sires represented. FOUR "producing" dams and SEVENTEEN young things from same. This sale furnishes the opportunity of a lifetime. TERMS: 10 MONTHS TIME, HANKAILE PAPER, 6 PER CENT INTEREST.

Send early for catalogue and examine stock beforehand. Sale held at "Maple Hill" Farm, 1½ miles from Mt. Sterling, Ky., on Lexington pike. Mt. Sterling is 38 miles east of Lexington on the C. & O. R. R. Sale begins promptly at 11 a. m., each day.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

Nancy Hawks went a mile in 2:09, at Richmond, Ind., Wednesday.

The Danville Advocate reports the sheep owners of the county troubled by sheep killing dogs.

Jno. W. Tamm received at this place, on Thursday, for Wm. Tarr, of Bourbon, 22 head of mule colts, bought from $60 to $91.

W. H. Brewitt sold to W. H. 60 head of export cattle, at 4½c, for immediate delivery, average 1,550 lbs. Mr. Brewitt also sold to the same party, 35 head of cattle at 4½c, that will average about 1,500 lbs., to be corn-fed, and delivered the last of November.

John W. Williams, of Powell county, bought on Thursday of L. B. Hedin, near Levee, two mule colts at $50 each and of Mr. James Westbrook same neighborhood one mule colt at $45. Mr. Williams also bought on Friday of Leslie Smith, near Levee, a good Jack for which he paid $450.

A. B. Bowling & Son have sold since September 4th, 1,500 head of stock ewes, ranging in price from $4.50 to $4.75, $5.00 to $5.00 per head, to the best judges of sheep in Fayette, Bourbon, Scott, Woodford and Clark counties. The sheep were all im-

At Work Again.

The farmers met at Carlisle last July and organized an Insurance company for isolated property only. The territory covered by this company is Bourbon and adjoining counties, hence includes this county. While they have as yet done no work here, they are growing rapidly in Nicholas and Bath counties. They now have about three hundred thousand dollars insurance. We understand that Cole Templeman, the President of the Alliance in Nicholas county, will soon go to work among the farmers in these parts. This company is of same nature as the company that has been in operation in Fleming county for sixteen years, and they have paid on an average during that time about $1.00 per $1,000, and carry insurance against fire, lightning and wild storms of any description. This is less than one-fifth of what we are paying for fire only, and when we remember that they pay all a man carries, it is no wonder the farmers are favoring the company.

Happy Hoosiers.

Wm. Timmons, Postmaster at Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from indigestion and liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c. a bottle, at W. S. Lloyd's Drug Store.

A careful breeder will avoid the show animal, whose fat too often covers up his defects.

It has been officially reported that the wheat crop of North Dakota is about 50,000,000 bushels.

Gladiolus bulbs ought to be dried off, placed in paper bags, and stored in a dry room free from frost.

Southern dairymen refuse to use bay, as they claim it spoils the keeping qualities of their products.

At the Franklin County Creamery Association, St. Albans, Vt., the milk at 12,000 cows is made into butter.

The Rural New Yorker says if you want high quality in the blackberry plant, try the Agawan. It is hardly too.

Small farms are the order on the island of Jersey, where many of them consist of from ten to twenty acres only.

A Russian who has applied electricity to seeds about to be planted claims that it doubles the rapidity of their growth.

For the New York market the popular package for peaches is the round box known as the half-bushel basket.

A Delaware exchange tells that some of the State peach growers are convinced that the yellows is caused by insects.

Mr. Hale told before the Nurseryman's Association that there is no peach that can compare with the Elberta in hardiness.

In New York State the corn is generally late, but good. Pennsylvania's wheat crop is reported the largest in a number of years.

Over three hundred new prizes have been added to the premium list of the New York Agricultural Society for the next State Fair.

There is reason to believe that the onion crop will be an average one. Eastern New York has an increase over last year, while in Western New York there is a shortage.

Twenty good cows (those that can average 300 pounds of butter each per annum), on a farm that can keep them well will make their owner comfortably independent in a few years.

It is believed now that cows are better off if allowed to go under shelter of cool nights when there are heavy dews and a nearness to frost. Not necessarily close barns. Open sheds are better.

The Census bulletins place the number of horses in the United States in 1890 at 14,976,071. The States of Illinois, Iowa and Texas report over a million each. Missouri and Kansas report 900,000 each.

From the Hudson river fruit belt is reported the greatest peach crop since 1880. The year crop, like the peach crop, is large and unenumerative. The crop of Concord grapes is reported about 90 per cent. of a full crop.

The Agricultural Department of Russia has this year planted poppyseed at various points in Caucasus. It proves that the plants do well the culture of opium will probably be pushed in the districts found suitable.

T. H. Hoskins, of Vermont, tells in Orchard and Garden that in his testings during the past eight years the Russian and German morellos, or amarells, have alone showed themselves able to endure his climate and fruit freely.

If you are going to buy a cow for your dairy, test her first. A certain dairymen, when about to buy a cow, rides through the country gathering samples of milk from the cows offered for sale. He tests the milk at his home, and buys accordingly.

Secretary Rusk wants the steamship companies carrying cattle from American ports to British markets to provide 2 feet, 8 inches as the minimum space for each steer. The last Congress authorized the Secretary to prescribe the regulations.

Western men are getting cattle to market in a manner never before equaled. During July and August they marketed $8,400 head, against 20,000 during the same time last year. This much shows that the cattle are good, and that the owners are ready to realize.

At the last New York State Fair the grand total of live stock entries was larger than ever before. The gain was among the sheep, swine and poultry entries, the latter of which have more than doubled within the last eight years. There was a falling off in the number of cattle exhibitors.

In consequence of the withdrawal of Prof. W. O. Atwater, Mr. A. W. Harris, has been Director of the office of Experiment stations of the United States Department of Agriculture, and Mr. A. C. True, the first assistant director. Prof. Atwater retains a connection with the office as a special agent in relation to European investigation in agriculture and as a scientific adviser.

The returns from the statistical division of the Department of Agriculture for the July report give a careful estimate of the average weight per piece of wool shorn this year. The returns show that some improvement has been made since the census of 1879. Then the average weight was slightly more than 4 1/2 pounds; now it is 4 1/2 pounds—nearly half a pound increase. Alabama returns the lightest weight, 2 1/2 pounds; and Iowa the heaviest, 6 1/2 pounds.

A cargo of African vegetable fibre, to be used as a substitute for flax, and like it in the manufacture of furniture, books and sails, is now being landed at Philadelphia. The fibre is as tough as steel itself. The bales in which it is imported have to be bound by bands of heavy steel, as the fibre is so expensive and so easily affected by higher temperatures. This grass is only found around the volcanic mountain slopes of Oran, and is used up to within a short distance of the centers. The latter are always in active state, and the earth around is so warm that not a plant of any kind can survive, or is ever seen to grow, except this steel-like plant. When dry and spread out it will pierce the body like a knife, and is used by the natives to fling their Christian brethren in war.—[New Orleans Times-Democrat.]

If parents who have children subject to croup, would take the advice of T. G. Julian, the druggist, they would never be without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It not only cures croup but will prevent it, if used as soon as the first symptoms appear, which can always be done if the remedy is kept at hand.

Capt. W. A. Abbott, who has long been with Messrs. Percival & Hutton, Real Estate and Insurance Brokers, Des Moines, Iowa, and is one of the best known and most respected business men in that city says: "I can testify to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Having used it in my family for the past eight years, I can safely say it has no equal for either cold or croup. 50 cent bottles for sale by T. G. Julian."

Flesh wounds in a horse are cured by probing with the terminal bone of a porch limb, then tie a string around the limb and hang it in the chimney. As the limbs burn away the wound will heal.

To cure "falling away" in a child, make a bag of new muslin and fill it with new tidings, and place it on the breast of a child. It must remain there nine days. Meanwhile the child must be fed only on the milk of a young heifer. After the nine days carry the bag by the little finger to a brook that flows toward evening and throw it over the shoulder. As the contents of the bag waste away the child will recover.

W. R. Nunnally has leased the store room of Tyler & Apperson in their stone front block, has had everything newly painted and papered, and is putting in a choice stock of groceries, fruits, vegetables, etc. If you want nice fruit for anything, give him an order and it will be used. He has also gone into a contract for a number of months to have sent to him the selected portions of beef, by which he has no refuse meat to work off on his friends. He keeps other meats in the way of lamb, (not mutton), veal, old ham, half dried beef, etc. He has a perfect poultry equipage, and if you want to buy or sell chickens, ducks, or geese, call on him. He says he wants to buy some choice fruit, so if you have some on your farm, take it to him.

Farmers. Stand by your Colors!

It is well remembered by all interested in the growing of tobacco, that for a long time there has been complaint among the farmers of excessive fees for selling their tobacco. It is also fresh in their recollection that less than a year ago all the tobacco warehouses of Louisville and Cincinnati formed a combination to capitalize their good will into one colossal stock company, with absolute power over the trade.

This alarmed the farmers, and they held a mass meeting in the city of Lexington last November, at which it was resolved, as the best means of protecting themselves against this great combine, that they would establish warehouses of their own, in which they would sell their own tobacco through their own agents. A committee was appointed to perfect a plan to carry out their purposes, and the Growers' house is the result of this meeting. That Lexington meeting knocked the bottom of that great combine, and the warehouses have never forgiven the men who were instrumental in breaking up their scheme. The Growers' house from the beginning has met with fierce and unrelenting hostility from the old warehouses, whose agents have misrepresented us in every section of the State. They have in Louisville a corporation called the Leaf Tobacco Exchange, of which all the warehouses and most of the buyers are members. The laws of this Exchange forbid its members, under heavy penalties, to sell tobacco or buy it from any one not a member of the exchange. What would our farmers say, if when they took a load of hay to town they should be told they must first hunt up a licensed broker to sell it, and the stable man that he must get another broker to buy it for him?

Now this is the reason our first sale last winter was a failure. The buyers wanted to attend it, but they were members of the Exchange, and its laws forbid them. This produced discussion in the Exchange, resulting in a relaxation of the rigor of the rules so far as the Growers' house was concerned, and the buyers were free to attend our sales which they gladly did.

The house sprung to its feet at once and its business has continued to grow up to the present time with wonderful rapidity.

The recent rumors put in circulation that the buyers were "boycotting the Growers' house" are silly and false. They were put in circulation by designing men to scare shippers away from the house, but have failed in their purpose. I have recently spent a week in Louisville, where I attended the tobacco sales, and know that we had plenty of buyers, and believe tobacco sold higher at the Growers' than the same grades did at other houses. I know this to be the opinion of many buyers who attended all the sales. Its true prices are low, but the tobacco is mean. There is very little good tobacco on the market now, for the old crop is nearly exhausted, and none of the new crop has yet come in. The first shipments of the new crop will demand extraordinary good prices.

Last spring when the success of our house became an assured fact, the old houses sent out agents in every direction loaded with money for the most liberal advancements, and for the country re-handlers to buy up all the best crops. In this very way a large amount of tobacco was tied up by liens, and the Growers' house had to look to the free tobacco alone. Of this free tobacco, our manager tells me our house got largely more than half during the months of August and September.

To give you some idea of the success of our house, I will state that on the 1st day of August we posted up our books, and, after paying all expenses and putting a thousand dollars into the reserve fund, a dividend of 15% was declared upon the paid up stock.

Farmers, you must stand by your own house, because you will save in fees several dollars on each hoghead of tobacco sold. You will finally force the other houses down to the same fees, and when you have done this, you will have accomplished what you started out to do, and you must keep up your own house as a regulator, or the others will fall back into their old ways. What we most need now, is a wider distribution of our own stock in small blocks among the growers, so as to keep control of the house in their hands. Capitalists have offered to take it all, but the Directors have refused them.

The farmers have been down long enough, and it is high time they were rising up to assert themselves. They constitute one-half the population and own more than one-half the property of the whole country. They fight its battles in times of war and pay the taxes in times of peace, and yet, a handful of smart fellows about the town exert more influence upon public affairs than a thousand solid men from the country. In the earlier and better days of the Republic, the power of the farmers was omnipotent in the land. Many of the earlier Governors of States, and some of our Presidents, were farmers, but their influence and power have gradually glided away until they have almost ceased to be regarded as a factor in political calculation.

The reason is obvious. All other professions or trades combine for mutual protection and advantage, while each farmer struggles along alone, complaining of wrongs he is powerless to redress. Farmers, if you ever regain your lost prestige and power, you must combine like other people. You have the strength of numbers on your side, and when united and standing firmly together, you become irresistible.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

The strike of wharf laborers at Savannah continues, and the business of the city is at a standstill.

The village of McKinney, in Lincoln county, Ky., was nearly destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon.

Immense damage is reported from Dakotas and Minnesota from prairie fires, and many persons are believed to have perished in the flames.

The crops in Southern Russia are a complete failure, and the peasantry see little but starvation before them. There is almost no food in the country.

A McLean county man claims to have killed a rattlesnake recently. It was eleven feet long, eighteen inches around the body, and had thirty-six rattles and a button.

The Con-Con. refused to settle with the Public Printer. Bro. Johnson will soon get even with the boys, among other nice things he says of the lamented.

Joe Mitholland, aged twelve, tried to swing on to a passing freight train at Midway, Tuesday. He lost his hold and fell under the wheels; both legs were cut off. He died next morning at 4 o'clock.

Taylor Churchill, colored, with some companions, was pulling down a wall in Princeton, Ky., on Tuesday. The wall suddenly gave way, killing Churchill. The others escaped serious injury.

The Rock River Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, at Joliet, Ill., last week adopted resolutions protesting against the interference of the Roman Catholic church with the public school system.

Theodore Schwartz, the Ex-Louisville banker, was acquitted at Shelbyville under peremptory instructions from the court of the charges of obtaining money by false pretenses and grand larceny. Other cases were continued.

The Chilian Junta refuses to grant safe conducts to the Balmacedistas who took refuge at the American Legation in Santiago, and there is an intimation that the United States Government may be forced to take action in the matter.

Americans returning from Russia say that one-half about the cruelties and indulgences to which foreigners are subjected in the great Empire has not been told. Besides the Jews, all who do not become Russian in every possible way are made to suffer.

The Constitutional Convention adjourned sine die Wednesday, having been in session 227 days. The only regret that will be expressed at their going will be that of those delegates who never before received $5 per day and never will again. These are exceeding mad down and sore of heart.

Gen. Boulanger committed suicide at the grave of Mme. DeBoummein, his alleged mistress, at Brussels, by shooting himself through the head on Wednesday last. Since the death of Mme. DeBoummein, which occurred last July, and to whom Boulanger was greatly attached, he has been very despondent.

DEATHS.

W. A. Maxey, a prominent citizen of West Liberty, Ky., died at his home on Sunday Sept. 27th of malarial fever. Mr. Maxey has been County Clerk of Morgan county eight years held the office of County Attorney four years and other places of public trust all of which he filled with credit to himself and with entire satisfaction to his constituents. At the time of his death he was actively engaged in the mercantile business at West Liberty, and was one of West Liberty's foremost men in push, energy and business enterprise. He was a consistent member of the Methodist church and to him largely due the progress of the church at his place. No object of charity was ever turned away from the door and the hungry was cheerfully fed at his table. He was married to Miss Sallie Henry, an estimable lady, about 20 years ago whom he leaves with six bright children to mourn his loss. Alex. Maxey, (as everybody called him), by his fair and honest dealings and his upright gentlemanly character has won for himself a host of friends in Morgan and adjoining counties, and is placed as a business man, a neighbor and a pillar of the church will be hard to fill, and he will be sorely missed by the people of his community. ## RELIGIOUS.

It is a significant fact that fifteen ministers are employed on the daily press of New York City writing on religious topics.

In 1885 there was not a single Baptist on the island of Cuba. Now there are over 5,000, and more than a dozen churches.

Bishop J. S. Johnston, of Texas, will preach at Ascension (Episcopal) church on Thursday night. A number of our citizens will read this notice with pleasure, as Bishop Johnston when Pastor of the Ascension church some years since, was one of the most popular divines ever in the city. Immediately after service Bishop Johnston will be tendered a reception at the home of Mrs. L. B. Hickenbotham, and all his friends are invited to join with his people in extending him a cordial welcome.

Rev. R. B. Bigstaff, of Bowman, was in Jackson Tuesday, and to a Hunter reporter he said that he was doing nicely in his work on the Middle Fork. He will hold Sunday School at the Middle Fork church Sunday morning, and Sunday afternoon at Twin Creek church. Prayer meeting will be held at the Middle Fork on Thursday and at the Twin on Tuesday nights of each week. Mr. Bigstaff will do good work for the people of that section, as he is that kind of a gentleman.—(Jackson Hunter.

Louisville Tobacco Market /Furnished by Glover & Durrett—Louisville Tobacco Warehouse.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 2,699 hhds., with receipts for the same period of 777 hhds.; sales on our market since Jan'y 1st, amount to 128,339 hhds. Sales of the crop of 1890 on our market to this date 89,097 hhds.

We have had another week of splenic weather for housing the new crop, and the bulk of the burley tobacco may be considered as practically under cover. Our market this week has been dull and sluggish, except for the very desirable types of leaf, which remain high. The per cent. of rejections is unusually large. The following quotations fairly represent our market for burley tobacco:

Tenah (dark) or damaged tobacco $2 to $3.
Colony trash - - - - - $3 to $6.
Common lugs not colony - - $4 to $4 1/2
Colony lugs - - - - - $6 to $10.
Common leaf - - - - - $5 to $7 1/2.
Medium to good leaf - - - $7 to $12.
Good to fine fillers - - - $12 to $22.
Select wrappry tobacco - - $22 to $32.

The Economist Wrought Steel Range.

Made by Bridgeford & Co., Louisville, Ky., and sold by W. W. Reed, Mt. Sterling, Ky. Listen to the advantages it has over all other ranges. It burns less fuel, and will burn coal or wood, or both and wood mixed, equally well. It will heat quicker and cook more uniformly than any other range, and is much easier to keep clean. It takes up very little room for its size, and the doors to oven and warmers are all in front. It has a large copper water tank that holds twelve buckets of water, and supplies you with hot water at all times, night or day, throws out much less heat in the room, and thereby more comfortable for those in the kitchen. It is warranted to give perfect satisfaction on thorough trial, or no sale. We give a few testimonials below.

W. W. REED, Sir:

We have used the Wrought Steel Economist Range for three or four months, and find it nearer perfection, by far, than any other range we had or saw. It is all, and more than you say for it, and we heartily recommend to those in need of a range.

MEDICINE HAT'S GARDEN.

In Blossom Like the Flowers of Spring
in Canada's Heart of Winter.

At nearly all the stations on the Canadian Pacific railroad through Manitoba there are large glass jars over the station entrance containing fine specimens of the various cereals raised in the country. One can see nowhere plumper wheat or finer rye or oats than the specimens he is able to inspect as he jumps from the train to take a turn on the station platforms.

Further west another sort of exhibition is given at the stations. It is not necessary through Manitoba, to have gardens alongside the railroad track to convince the traveler of the remarkable productiveness of the soil. The great fields of grain along the road are sufficient evidence that he is in a country of abounding harvests. But when he reaches the western Asiniboia or Alberta, where the country is dryer, there are very few wheat fields to gaze at through the window, and the Canadian Pacific road has started a number of gardens at the various stations. The garden at Medicine Hat is a particularly fine example, and has been laid out and attended with especial care, because all passenger trains stop at Medicine Hat a half hour, and passengers have plenty of time to wander through the grounds just across the track from the station.

Medicine Hat contains, perhaps, 400 people. It has a weekly newspaper, a neat little church, several good stores and public buildings, and an important station of the uncounted people. It lies on the right bank of the South Saskatchewan. Many travelers climb the little knoll covered with graves behind the town to get a view of the surrounding country. The graves are covered with stones to prevent wild animals from digging out the bodies. Wooden head boards, on which are painted the names of the dead, stand over the graves, most of which are surrounded by picket fences.

Below the knoll extends the little village, with the swift river beyond, which is navigable for nearly 800 miles from this point almost to Lake Winnipeg. Far away on every side "stretch the plains, but toward the west are a line of bushes, perhaps 400 feet high, which vary the monotony of the landscape with their grim, bare and perpendicular fronts. Beyond the river are farms where some grain is raised, but the chief industry is in country stock raising. An ocean of grass covers the prairie, and cattle ranches are multiplying.

The company desire to prove that by means of irrigation good crops may be raised. Its garden at the station, therefore, is carefully watered, and it is as fine a garden as can be seen anywhere, except on the Pacific coast itself. Cabbages, potatoes, and other flowers in great profusion, and small trees are seen in a very flourishing condition. A number of apple trees are growing very well.

The garden is a most pleasing spectacle to tourists, learned perhaps by the unending praise through which the train has been passing. It is not at all unlikely that some day good crops will be raised in this region will be irrigated by means of the streams that flow through it, and the success of the Medicine Hat garden seems to show that nothing but water is needed to produce abundant crops.—New York Sun.

Why the Earthworm Thrives.
In this country the earthworm is perhaps the most abundant animal of any size; it would be difficult not to meet with worms by digging in almost any locality, and yet it is one of the most persecuted creatures that inhabit the soil. Not only do birds hunt them, but the gardener, armed with a watering pot and solution of corrosive sublimate, slays his tens of thousands. When they seek for refuge deep down in the soil they are pursued by moles; centipedes and various insects attack them, and in fact every one's hand is against them. But in spite of this general hostility on the part of minute creation, they thrive and multiply.

The first and principal reason for their great fertility; and the second is their great power of recovery after accidents which would rapidly terminate the existence of more lightly organized creatures. An earthworm can lose a considerable portion of itself without suffering any appreciable temporary inconvenience, and indeed some of the fresh water animals, which are near relations of the earthworm, voluntarily divide themselves into several pieces, each of which becomes a new worm.—Chambers' Journal.

Insects That Sing.
Several species of insects have apparatus for producing sounds similar to that of the grasshopper, or modifications of it. Of a different type is that with which the cicadas are endowed. Only the males of this insect are singers, for which the Greek poets called them happy because their females were dumb. With the ancients a cicada sitting on a harp was the symbol of music. A pretty fable tells of the contest between two citizens players, in which the curious event happened that when one of the contestants broke a string a singing cicada sprang on his harp and helped him out so that he gained the prize.—R. Francochinski in Popular Science Monthly.

WAY DO YOU COUGH?
Do you know that a little cough is a dangerous thing? Are you aware that it often runs into Consumption on the lungs and far too often runs into Consumption on the lungs and ends in Death? People suffering from Asthma, Bronchitis, Pneumonia and Consumption will all tell you that.

"IT STARTED WITH A COUGH."
Can you afford to neglect it? Can you triffl with so serious a matter? Are you aware that for Coughs, Colds and Consumption is beyond question the greatest of all Modern Remedies? It will stop a Cough in one night. It will check a Cold in three. "You can't afford to be without it." A 25 cent bottle may save you $5.00 in Doctor's bills—may save your life! Ask your druggist for it, or write to W. H. J. ROGERS & Co., 48 West Broadway, New York, for book.

DR. ACKER'S ENGLISH REMEDY

The Veracity of the Realists.
The practice of the verifiability of more frankness in our fiction is very familiar, and any one would be temerarious in hoping to throw any new light on it, no doubt. The paleness of the said fiction has been acknowledged on all hands, defended by some and deplored by others in most thoroughgoing fashion. But I must say I think the practice of the verifiability—and I think they are not so numerous by any means as their apologists and eulogizers they are repeatedly numerous when you consider the verities of many a short story as well as the bravura of the emancipated novelle and novels—is considerably more illuminating than any express contribution to the theoretical discussion hitherto. And in this way. The argument for greater frankness is summed up in the declaration that it is puerile to neglect in literature any important side of the verifiability of the novel. The argument for greater frankness is summed up in the declaration that it is puerile to neglect in literature any important side of the verifiability of the novel.

The Monte Flowering of the Desert.
The northern portion of the Colorado Desert is paved with the most wonderful pebbles in the world. It is many parts so exquisitely laid as to defy successful imitation by the most skilled worker in mosaic. These pebbles are made of peridot, agate, cornelian, quartz, crystal, garnets, chrysolite and other such beautiful materials. They are packed together so that the surface composed of them is like a floor, and they look as if pressed into place by a roller. As a rule, they are of nearly uniform size, and each one is polished brilliantly, as if oil and rubbed. Most of them are perfect spheres, and the reflection from them of the sun's rays is gorgeous beyond description.

Each convex surface gives back a ray of light and the ground for miles seems as if literally paved with gems. Thus the whole surface of the plain is a combination of myriads of reflectors, each pebble being so highly polished that it is like a mirror, and it is because of this that the reflection from the sun's rays is so brilliant. The pebbles are polished by the loose sand which is blown hither and thither.—Washington Star.

Why the Boys Leave the Farm.
The answer is self evident—perpetual toil in good weather all through the busy season, and perpetual loneliness in bad weather and most of the winter season. The time when the farmers have leisure is, in half the country, the very time when they cannot get away from home by reason of their isolation and bad roads; yet such is the hunger of the heart that the boys revolt against this unendurable loneliness and even now often walk miles through the rain or the snow to spend half a day in sitting around the stove in the city store. Already, in many sections, the reflection from the barriers and established farmers' clubs and little societies of one sort or another, and improved roads have done much to all this relief. But they should not neglect the tendency to be reasonably directed, and all ages and both sexes enjoy their long winter evenings together.—John W. Book-walter in Forum.

Will the Earth's Motion Cease?
Is the motion of our earth and other planetary bodies perpetual? A superlative survey of the field would convey the impression that such motion will continue forever. The earth with its mass of 3,000,000,000,000,000 tons for a long time defied all attempts to detect its loss of speed, but, with the friction of the tides continually at work, it was shown that such loss must take place, and now it is pretty certain from calculations of Professor Adams and others that the earth loses about an hour every 10,000 years, and is slowly but surely coming to a standstill.

The experiments and investigations of modern scientists are proving what Sir Isaac Newton believed—that the motions of all bodies in space are suffering retardation, and that their velocity is becoming less and less, and ultimately ceases altogether. Then the whole planetary system will fall through space everlasting.—St. Louis Republic.

Improvements in Pulley Coverings.
Some additional improvements in the covering of pulleys are announced, by one of which, as is claimed, 50 per cent. more power can be transmitted, and all slipping reduced to an imperceptible fraction. In accomplishing this the primary point is the employment of a specially prepared leather covering for the pulley, which is extremely soft and elastic and never glazes by the rubbing action of the belt, as is the case when ordinary leather is employed for the purpose. It is applied to the pulley and held firmly to it for all time by means of a special cement, made so as to be soft and to remain so, unlike ordinary cement or glue, no rivets of any kind being used, as the leather covering is firmly attached to the iron of the pulley by the cement alone.

Covering iron pulleys with paper is sometimes resorted to, the method consisting in first rendering the pulley absolutely free from grease by means of sand, scrubbing the whole surface with a file, wetting with dilute nitric acid for a few minutes to deaden the scratches, then cleaning with water and drying; following this the paper is applied by winding, using the strongest glue, or it may be wetted with tannic acid and applied as above. Some effort is made to add a tablespoonful of glycerin to a quart of glue and then apply hot. The edges are turned off and a coating of common shellac applied.—New York Sun.

War Bound to Come.
We may rest assured that what weighs upon the heart of France is the invasion of authority, the lost place in the front rank of Europe, her supremacy questioned, the victor for twenty years regulating the march of events, the settlement of which will then be longed without dispute to the supreme will of France. This is a war she cannot not lose. Those who dream of settling the Franco-German question by a compromise must, also resign themselves to this: Never will this question be settled in the pure and Christian atmosphere of peace. If Germany now agreed to restore Alsace and Lorraine to France in return for a pledge of everlasting peace, France would agree to such an arrangement with the greatest reluctance, and would avert her eyes for ever from the mocking deliverer who at such a price bade her sheathe her sword.

She has not, however, to dread any such mortification, for Germany would fly to arms a hundred times sooner than lose her conquered prey; and notwithstanding her past victory she, too, dreams of confirming it afresh. No peace is not concluded between the two nations. No, the era of combat between them is not over, and the sword is what must again be drawn again, until the unknown time when a new morality shall govern the world, and when the God of peace shall be universally acknowledged.—De Blowitz in Harper's.

The Divine Love.
How beautiful the science and art shown that there is a latent divine love for man in those things which his ignorance would inevitably regard as terrible enemies. Many of the most noxious gases have been converted by human skill into the most valuable servants. See how fire, so awful, so terrible, so destructive when uncontrolled, conduces to the advantage of our race. The savage trembles before a large volume of steam, but the civilized man lays his hand on it as a master, and it waits him on missions of wealth or benevolence or instruction around the world. Through centuries the lightning was regarded as an absolute foe to our race, but science has shown that in its fierce nature lies a force which is a perennial blessing.—New York Ledger.

Fruit Stones Made Costly.
The stones of certain kinds of dates, like those of the figs and figs, are rather large, are carved and pierced to make beads for rosaries. The stones of a species of Canarium (often called peach stones) are beautifully and elaborately carved by the Chinese, and when set in gold or separated by gold filigree beads form exceedingly handsome brooches and bracelets. Amoy is renowned for this kind of work, and some of these beads cost a dollar each, a very large sum, when the slight remuneration in China for skilled labor and the cost of native living are borne in mind.—Chambers' Journal.

This from a young woman: "I always keep a bottle of vinegar on my toilet shelf. A teaspoonful taken as I am leaving my room to receive a caller or to go out to some social event has an excellent effect on my voice, clearing and softening it."
